Interest rate caps and swaps recorded in the cash flow hedging reserve, derivative assets and derivative liabilities (note 6) are regarded as level 2 financial instruments. Level 2 fair value measurements are those derived from inputs that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).

The fair value of interest rate caps and swaps is calculated as the present value of the estimated future cash flows based on observable yield curves.

Interest rate caps were executed in the prior year, with a maturity date of 20 July 2018. Interest rate caps were designated as cash flow hedges and executed to hedge the interest that is payable under various debt facilities with principal values of R1 810 million. The amount of the principal value designated as a hedged item is R980 million.

The put option recorded in derivative liabilities is regarded as a level 3 financial instrument for fair value measurement purposes. Level 3 financial instruments are those derived from inputs that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs). The fair value of the put option is determined using discounted cash flow analysis.

In terms of the Westbank operating agreement the remaining shareholders of Westbank Fishing Limited Liability Company ("Westbank") could put their 75% equity stake in Westbank to Daybrook Fisheries Incorporated ("Daybrook") or its nominee for a fixed price of USD31.5 million ("put option strike price"). Effective 1 November 2016, the Westbank Fishing Limited Liability Company exercised the put option in terms of the Westbank operating agreement. The exercise of the put option triggers the payment of the put option strike price plus the put option premium as well as any unpaid distributions on the put closing date, being 15 November 2017. The put option derivative liability amounting to R 164.6 million has been classified as a current liability at 31 March 2017 due to the expected settlement thereof within 12 months from the end of the reporting date.

The put option liability was remeasured to fair value in the prior year by measuring the put option strike price plus the put premium to the fair value of Westbank. Westbank was valued using a discounted cash flow model and unobservable inputs including forecast annual revenue growth rates of 1.8% to 2.0%, forecast EBITDA margin of 22.6% to 25.6% and a risk-adjusted discount rate of 8.2%. A change in the discount rate by 1% would increase or decrease the fair value by R70.0 million. During the period no fair value adjustment was recognised in operating profit.

6. DERIVATIVE LIABILITIES (continued)

The notional principal amount of the interest rate swaps at 31 March 2017 amounts to R1 085 million (2016: R1 257 million). This comprises hedges on the term debt of R1 734 million (2016: R1 996 million). The swap is to hedge the interest that is payable under the debt facility. During the period a fair value gain of R6.7 million was recognised in other comprehensive income.

COMMENTS

FINANCIAL RESULTS

Group revenue, after adjusting for businesses sold during 2016, decreased by 9% to R3 141 million (March 2016: R3 464 million from continuing operations). This decline was mainly due to lower canned fish volumes and the effect of a stronger Rand. US Dollar revenue for 2017 was converted at an average exchange rate of R13.60/USD compared to R15.10/USD for the comparable period. US Dollar revenue growth of 14% was achieved in our US operations and export businesses in South Africa, Namibia and Angola, which together contributed USD100.2 million compared to USD88.1 million during the same period in 2016.

The 14% decrease in group operating profit before other operating items to R504 million (March 2016: R587 million) reflected the adverse movement in net foreign exchange, from a gain of R69.9 million in 2016 to a loss of R44.7 million in this reporting period. These movements were primarily due to the effects of forward exchange contracts to cover the cost of imported frozen fish for our canned fish business. Despite the improvement in the average rate of forward cover to R14.05/USD from R14.75/USD in 2016, the volatility in the average spot rate over the period resulted in material movement in foreign exchange costs.

Net interest expense for the period of R171 million (March 2016: R163 million) related to finance costs on additional working capital facilities and long-term borrowings. The average interest rate for all debt is currently 7.21% (March 2016: 6.69%).

Headline earnings for the period decreased by 16% compared to the prior period. An interim dividend of 90 cents per share has been declared (March 2016: 112 cents per share).

FINANCIAL POSITION AND CASH FLOW

Group cash flow from operations improved by 46% to R586 million (March 2016: R401 million) with improved use of working capital offsetting decreased cash flows from canned fish sales. At the end of the period, the group has positive cash balances of R983 million (March 2016: R545 million) of which R827 million (March 2016: R542 million) is held in dollar denominated accounts.

At 31 March 2017, group net debt was R3 558 million (March 2016: R4 268 million) of which R908 million (March 2016: R1 454 million) was US Dollar denominated. The net debt to EBITDA ratio at 31 March 2017 was 1.9 times (March 2016: 2.8 times).

REVIEW OF OPERATIONS

Canned fish and fishmeal (Africa)

The initial 2017 South African Total Allowable Catch (TAC) for pilchard decreased to 23 964 tons from 64 928 tons in 2016, and the Namibian pilchard TAC was maintained at 14 000 tons. Our strategy of importing frozen raw material for local processing continued during the period.

The canned fish division experienced a challenging six months with sales volumes decreasing by 28% to 3.6 million cartons (March 2016: 5.0 million cartons). This was driven primarily by the timing of buy-in effects ahead of price increases taken in April 2016 and October 2016, respectively. Canned fish realisations were on average 9.9% higher over the period due to the sales mix and the price increase in October 2016.

Costs in the canned fish division were well managed. Procurement efficiencies and improved US Dollar pricing for imported product contributed to an increase in gross profit margin. This was materially offset by Rand strength against the US Dollar which resulted in foreign exchange losses for the division of R32.2 million compared to a gain of R67.6 million for the comparable period. As a result, the division's overall margin and profitability decreased for the six months.

The fishmeal and fish oil division delivered a solid performance despite headwinds from export earnings and fishmeal pricing. Overall sales volumes improved following positive landings in Angola and improved opening inventory in South Africa. This was partially offset by fishmeal and fish oil pricing which softened during the period, caused by increased global production following higher quotas in Europe and Peru and improved landings in Chile. As a result, both revenue and operating profit for the division showed material improvement.

Fishmeal and fish oil (USA)

The 2016 fishing season for the Menhaden fishery ended on 10 November 2016, and consequently our fishing and processing operations in Daybrook were inactive for a large portion of the period under review. During this period, we undertake annual maintenance on plants and vessels. The 2017 season opened on 17 April 2017 and will run to the end of October 2017.

Revenue was up on the prior period by 12% in US Dollars. The state of the Menhaden resource is healthier than originally anticipated. The increased landings in the 2016 fishing season contributed to elevated opening inventory levels for the period, resulting in improved sales volumes of fishmeal and oil to 31 507 tons (March 2016: 27 809 tons). Since a large portion of fishmeal sales are concluded in advance, this segment has not felt the effect of softer global fishmeal prices for the six months under review.

Strong improvement in operating profit to USD16 million for the six months compared to USD12.7 million for the comparable period was offset by the effects of a stronger Rand when consolidating earnings into the group's results. Operating profit in Rand terms improved by 13%.

Horse mackerel and hake

The 2017 Namibian horse mackerel TAC increased by 1.5% to 340 000 tons (2016: 335 000 tons). The Ministry of Fisheries and Marine Resources made an initial allocation of 140 000 tons for the 2017 fishing season with 34.8% (March 2016: 45.4%) allocated to existing rights holders.

The Desert Diamond fished in South African waters during the current period, having been deployed in Namibia during the first six months of the prior period. Catch rates in Namibia are back in line with historical averages following lower catch rates experienced in the first quarter, with the size mix having decreased marginally.

In South Africa, the Precautionary Maximum Catch Limit (PMCL) for targeted catch of horse mackerel decreased by 28.4% to 27 684 tons (2016: 38 656 tons). Consequently, quota available to Oceana through own and joint venture allocations, following the 2016 Fishing Rights Allocation Process (FRAP), dropped to 24.8% (2016: 34.7%) of the PMCL.

Catches in South Africa improved materially over the period.

Overall, horse mackerel revenue was lower due to decreased sales volumes, offset by an improvement in US Dollar sales prices due to improved size mix. The effect of improved pricing and procurement efficiencies served to improve overall trading margins for the horse mackerel business. As a result, operating profit was marginally lower than for the prior period.

The 2017 hake offshore TAC reduced by 4.7% to 117 194 tons (2016: 123 020 tons). Vessel utilisation in this division was affected by the planned factory upgrade of the Mfv Beatrice, and the unforeseen breakdown of two vessels, which resulted in decreased sales volumes for the period. Revenue and operating profit were consequently lower than the prior period, despite the positive effects of stronger European pricing which countered in part the effects of a stronger Rand.

Lobster and squid

The 2017 TAC for west coast lobster remained unchanged at 1 924 tons, although the offshore allocation dropped from 1 244 tons in 2016 to 1 204 tons. Quota available to Oceana for the current season was 256 tons (2016: 264 tons). The industry continues to operate under an exemption with a delay in the announcement of the 2016 FRAP allocations.

Revenue and operating profit in the lobster business declined following the combined effect of lower landings resulting from a delay in the TAC announcement and permit allocations at the start of the 2017 season, lower catch rates, and the effect of a stronger Rand.

Fishing rights allocated to the squid business remained unchanged over the period. Squid revenue and operating profit improved materially due to firm prices and increased landings compared to the prior period.

Commercial cold storage and logistics (CCS)

Difficult trading conditions in certain geographies resulted in occupancy levels in the CCS business declining from the high base set in 2016. This was primarily caused by lower poultry volumes and the loss of some customers in the Gauteng region due to increased competition resulting from lower market volumes. In addition, the timing of frozen fish imports in the canned fish segment improved, resulting in lower levels of stored frozen fish in our cold storage locations in Cape Town.

The effect of lower occupancy in Gauteng, particularly at our leased sites in Midrand, had a material impact on profitability for this segment which declined from R79 million for the period to 31 March 2016 to R47 million in the current period. The effect of lower frozen fish volumes, while material for this segment, has a negligible effect on group earnings.

PROSPECTS

Currency volatility is expected to persist in the medium term which will impact our performance for the full year. Export revenue for the period 1 April to 30 September 2016 was converted at approximately R14.60/USD.

Earnings from our canned fish division are expected to improve in the second half of the year through anticipated good sales volumes in South Africa driven by better pricing and marketing strategies.

Performance in our horse mackerel operations remains highly dependent on our ability to secure quota in Namibia at favourable prices.

In our cold storage business, we expect frozen fish volumes associated with our canned fish production to improve. Occupancies in our Gauteng stores will continue to be affected by reduced poultry volumes.

Fishmeal and fish oil prices are expected to remain under pressure in the short term following the recent announcement that the Peruvian first fishing season anchovy quota allocation has been set at 2.8 million tons (2016: 1.8 million tons). Based on early season catches in South Africa, Angola and the US (Daybrook) we are optimistic that improved total landings across our fishmeal and oil operations will partially mitigate the effect of softer prices.

The Department of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries (DAFF) is reviewing horse mackerel FRAP appeals and an announcement is expected within the next few months. We also await the judgement in the Viking Fishing court case which could provide strategic clarity on future fishing rights allocation processes.

The process of finding a suitable US-based partner for the 75% equity stake in Westbank Fishing is continuing. We expect to conclude this prior to the exit of the current partners.

The information and any forward-looking statements set out in this announcement have not been reviewed or reported on by the auditors.
